Trump Trump Trump (to the tune of Nellie the Elephant)

CCCC

C     F     C
Donald Trump has got the knack of sacking his chief advisers.
Dm    C     G     D7     G     G7
Then he tweets with a trumpety trump, trump, trump, trump,
C     F     C
You’ve got to be mad to work for me, for you’ll not be a survivor,
Dm    C     F     G7     C     C7
And you will get a stab in the back, trump, trump, trump.

F     C     F     C
Vladimir came calling, I’ve got a good idea.
D7    G     D7    G     G7
Let’s meet one night, in the candle light, over a pint of beer.
C     F     C
I’ve got a plan to make us rich, it really will be easy,
Dm    C     F     G7     C     C7
So don’t get into a humpety hump, hump, hump, hump.

F     C     F     C
Donald he was nervous, could he trust this man,
D7    G     D7    G     G7
Or was he heading into the fire from out of the frying pan?
C     F     C
He knew he couldn’t resist the urge to make a bit more money,
Dm    C     F     G7     C     C7
So off he flew with a bumpety bump, bump, bump, bump.

F     C     F     C
When they got together all his hopes did fade.
D7    G     D7    G     G7
Putin didn’t like him much, so no big plans were made.
C     F     C
Don got mad, it turned out bad, and both got very heated.
Dm    C     F     G7     C
It ended in a thumpety thump, thump, thump, thump.
If I don’t get my way I’ll be leaving today and flying back over the water.

You’ve been rather rude, and I’m in a bad mood. You’ll be sorry.

I’m so devastated, and you’re overated. You’re just a devious lump.

Now I am going. My hot air is blowing. Grump, grump, grump.

So Donald the president cleared his desk and trundled back to his tower.

The past five years had gone quite quick. Tick tock tick.

A second term looming to do more harm, was what we all expected,

But a kick in the rump had got rid of the chump. Chump, chump, chump.
